HIGHLIGHTS

- The Momentum score has surged from 3 to 8 over the past three months, driven by strong price performance following Q4 earnings and positive FY26 guidance.

- A detailed roadmap for the new Snowflake Intelligence Layer, a suite of AI tools, has significantly improved investor sentiment and future growth expectations, reflected in a higher Risk score.
- The Relative Valuation score remains a key weakness at 2, as the stock's forward multiples have expanded with the recent price rally.

BUSINESS SUMMARY

Snowflake Inc. operates the AI Data Cloud. Its platform enables customers to consolidate data, drive insights with SQL and Snowpark, build AI-powered applications, and share data products. Recent strategic focus has shifted to integrating generative AI capabilities directly into its core platform via the new Snowflake Intelligence Layer, aiming to simplify enterprise AI adoption.
